THE CSU EFFECT

You came to Colorado State University to earn a degree and start forging your future, whether that path leads you to the job market, graduate school, the military, the Peace Corps or one of the dozens of other diverse options. And you want to know how CSU graduates are faring.

YOU'VE JOINED A COMMUNITY WHERE:

- CSU alumni in Colorado collectively earn $2.2 billion more because of their college degrees
- 89% of graduates secured their plans or at least one job offer within 6 months of graduation.
- CSU graduates found employment in 35 countries and are coveted by those looking for inspired people who can change the world.

- Members of CSU’s last graduating class have located across 46 states and 35 countries with 1,600 unique employers.
- Average starting salary for CSU graduates: $49,300
- 81% of CSU graduates found employment related to their major
- Alumni in Colorado account for $5.54 billion in household income.
- 83% of CSU graduates found employment related to their career plans